

REVIVE & RECONNECT

6 - 30

HALF/FULL DAY

INDOOR & OUTDOOR

Boosts & Benefits

- Boosting employee satisfaction
- Encouraging efficiency
- Changing attitudes
- Improving online communication
- Building relationships

Working from home has seriously impacted team dynamics and working relationships, threatening employee mental health and overall productivity. Unfortunately we don't know how long we will be encouraged to work from home and therefore we have created a package that will help to revive and reconnect your socially distanced team, increasing employee satisfaction and boosting production.

We believe very strongly that genuine face to face time and social interactions are irreplaceable when it comes to building team cohesion and motivating employees. We have designed a safe, informative and inclusive day allowing groups of up to 30 individuals to meet in person. This will allow participants to rebuild work place bonds through a series of thought provoking exercises, emotionally reconnect through physical social interactions and allow time for face to face meetings for those things that are better said in person.

Our facilitators will guide groups through a series of activities, specifically focused around positive online communication, rebuilding relationships and coming together. These activities include:

- The Perpetrator
- Office Politics
- Where The Truth Lies

This package complies with the latest government guidance, putting individuals safety and social distancing measures at the forefront, ensuring that colleagues can reconnect in a safe space.

TOGETHER WITH VISION

HALF/FULL DAY

INDOOR

Communication between colleagues is now more vital than ever, whether you are communicating over the phone, via video calls or even if you have been lucky enough to venture back into the office. Vision can help you improve your working relationships with colleagues, gaining a deeper understanding of their needs and getting the most out of every interaction.

All of our Vision Profiling workshops can be tailored to meet your team's specific needs. Each delegate will take part in a 15 minute online exercise before the workshop takes place, this produces their unique profile document. Vision profiles provide individuals with a detailed understanding of their working style, how their behavior impacts on others and how to identify their personality traits in order to improve their effectiveness in both action and communication. To reinforce the learning, we facilitate tasks as practical examples to highlight particular personality preferences.

Our working lives are based around perceptions. We are often in the same situation as our colleagues and yet still manage to disagree. The key to effective communication and team work is to recognise, value and work with differences in ourselves and in others.

This package complies with the latest government guidance, putting individuals safety and social distancing measures at the forefront, ensuring that colleagues can reconnect in a safe space.

Boosts & Benefits
